One Hundred Million.

This Vast Sum to Be Expended on the Panama Canal.

SUBSCRIBED BY THE FRENCH

And the Thousands of Workmen Now Employed There Will Not Be Thrown Out of Work—No Trouble Feared By the Projectors of the Undertaking, But Some Doubt Expressed By Others.

PANAMA, Jan. 22.—Ms. Vauzonnce and Boileau have arrived from Paris, bringing good news to the thousands of men at work on De Lesseps' Panama canal. It was to the effect that in all human probability work on the great enterprise would be continued without interruption: that the French people would subscribe another hundred millions in addition to the vast sums already expended, and bring the gigantic work to a completion. These gentlemen report that when they left France on Christmas it was quite evident that the requisite money would be forthcoming and they were therefore sent back to Panama with instructions to M. Jacquier, the resident director, to push the work steadily on the assumption that the new loan would be subscribed. The last of January will definitely decide the fate of the canal as far as France is concerned, says he direct or here, a thing that work will continue steadily until the 26th inst. under any circumstances and perhaps beyond that date, for there is still sufficient money in the treasury to keep the work going for three months. But if the decision of the French shareholders should be adverse, the suspension will only be temporary, for new elements will step in and reap where others have sown

MAP OF THE CANAL

It is well that this news has come so opportunely. The uncertainty which has prevailed re. ording the possible action of the French people has put the motley population along the line of the canal in a state of incipient tumult. Yesterday it was reported that four thousand men had been discharged at Culebra, that a fight was in progress and that twenty Chinese had been killed. Your correspondent hastened to Culebra and found the laborers simply enjoying a holiday, one of the contractors having suspended work for two days. An hour among this mongrel horde gives one an idea of what might happen if this army of twelve thousand reckless men with their female followers were turned adrift penniless, for to get them here they were paid a month in advance. Should the work be suspended and this happen there will be sorry times on the isthmus

DE LESSEPS.

When the United Press correspondent called on M Jacquier, the director general at Panama, and spoke of the grave possibility of mob and bloodshed, he said: "There will be no trouble of any kind, the work will be steadily continued and be completed too at a cost of not more than $80,000,000. We cannot fail. History is not going to repeat itself in the revolution which swept over the isthmus four years ago, burning the city of Aspinwall and violating the laws of God and laws of man."

On the contrary the American consul shakes his head and says the situation is grave. He points to the fact that English, French and American men-of-war have appeared this week in Panama bay and at Colon.

THE DEADLOCK BROKEN.

After 120 Ballots the West Virginia Senate Elects a President

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 22.—At 6.35 yesterday evening the senate deadlock was broken by the election of R. S. Carr as president, ten Democrats and six Republicans voting for him. As soon as his election was announced the senate adjourned for the day. One hundred and twenty-six ballots were taken before the result was reached

The legislature will go into the election of a United States senator to-day. The Republican caucus last night nominated Goff. The Democrats have been holding a conference with the intention of solving it into a caucus, but owing to the opposition which has developed against Senator Kenna, they have been unable to do so. Eight members are reported as absolutely refusing to support him should he be nominated and a repetition of the deadlock of two years ago seems imminent

The Atlanta Gone to Hayti.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The United States cruiser Atlanta, Capt. Howell commanding, sailed from the Brooklyn navy yard Sunday to join Admiral Luce's squadron.

MUST TAKE THEIR LEAVE.

Army Officers Disgruntled Over a Contemplated Order.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Secretary Endicott contemplates issuing an order which will do away with a custom almost as old as the army itself. All officers of the army, but more particularly those on duty at remote stations, have not been obliged to take their annual leave every year.

In most cases the time allowed—thirty days—would be consumed in traveling to and from their homes. Hence the accumulation of leaves has always been allowed, and as high as four months' leave is often granted.

It is now held that the granting of this leave is not only irregular but clearly illegal, because the stipulations are that an officer be entitled to thirty days' leave each year, with full pay, and the accounting officers of the treasury claim that the law never contemplated the granting of any leave amounting to four months, with pay and emoluments as if on continuous duty. The war department now decides that if an officer does not take his leave during the year he forfeits all claim to it. This ruling will work considerable hardships to the officers.

It is stated, and backed up with considerable circumstantial evidence, that this order is actuated by some officers on duty in the war department, who, certain of the fixed tenure, are jealous of brother officers coming to Washington during the session of congress and influencing legislation.

The order will not serve to increase Secretary Endicott's popularity in the army. There are many young officers in the service who, depending entirely upon their pay, are not in a position financially to get home from a far away post more than once every two or three years, and they insist that they should be allowed the privilege of having their leaves accumulate, taking the total time at their convenience.

Growing Very Uneasy

Our Proposed Immigration Laws Not Liked Abroad.

ENGLAND WORRIED OVER IT

It is Suggested That Retaliatory Measures Be Adopted at Once—Comments of the London Press on the Subject—Other Cullings From the Cable Dispatches.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The proposal on the part of the United States to strengthen their immigration laws by drastic enactments has stirred up a good deal of feeling on the subject here, involving criticism by no means gentle or fair. Not only is the matter watched with keen interest in England, but the question is exciting a similar degree of concern on the continent. Not, perhaps, as a measure of retaliation, but as a means of purifying the moral atmosphere, it is suggested that the colonies, Canadian in particular have recourse to similar legislation and thus close the gates against the only classes who are likely to leave the United States and who do leave that country both for the country's good in order to keep out of jail.

The Globe admits that the bill is a natural one and perhaps inevitable, but thinks it will prove to be exceedingly serious business for Europe, and also increase the probability that the Chinese question will be forced into unexpected developments rendering the greatest of all social problems still more difficult of solicitation.

The Standard says: "The prospect opened by the action of the New York gold dealers is not an agreeable one, yet it is difficult to find a remedy. It seems only too likely that the notion that the new world is always eager to welcome men of all kinds, will, within a short time, be altogether untenable. We admit that the American people have a very strong case. Still they are not unlikely to find in the long run very serious disadvantages resulting from their action

Taken Back to Ireland.

GLASGOW, Jan. 22.—An immense crowd gathered at the railway station yesterday afternoon to witness and express their opinion upon the departure of Commoner Sheehy for Ireland. The police, fearing trouble, took the route by water from Greenock and thus evade the popular outcry against them. A very largely attended indignation meeting was held under the auspices of the Liberals to denounce the action of the government in serving Irish warrants in Scotland, and the excitement resultant from Sheehy's arrest and removal to Ireland is intense and rising

Gladstone Will Not Go.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—There is general regret among the advocates of the Irish Home Rule that Mr. Gladstone has decided that to go to Rome. Cardinal Manning and other eminent Catholics and Home Rulers pleaded with the ex-premier, and urged that his presence in Rome and the circumstance of his being received by the pope would have an excellent effect in favor of the Irish cause, but Mr. Gladstone was obdurate to their entreaties.

The Czar's Benevolence.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 22.—The czar presented gold tokens of remembrance to all of the persons who were present on the occasion of the disaster to the imperial train at Barki. They consist of miniatures of a sacred picture which hung in the dining saloon of the czar's carriage, and which was found after the catastrophe to have been miraculously

White Caps in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 22.—The introduction of the organization of White Caps in Iowa seems to be making rapid progress. Since January 1, at probably a dozen different points remotely situated from each other, persons have received anonymous letters advising them to change their conduct, get out of the community or prepare for a visitation from the White Cape Union, others who have received warning notices is the attorney of the law and order league of Sioux City, who has been told by the regulators to leave town. Editor Perkins, of the Journal, has been notified to attend to his own affairs. In Des Moines the editor of a daily paper has received word that you and your gang must leave the city without delay or we will make it warm for you."

All Ready for Sailing

A United States Gunboat Will Start For Samoa.

OTHERS TO FOLLOW SOON.

The Reported Disturbance on the Island Confirmed By a Correspondent of a San Francisco Paper—Where the Fighting Will Take Place Should the Present Trouble Lead to War.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the United States man-of-war Vandalia left Mare island navy yard and is now in this harbor ready to sail for the Samoan islands, the present seat of war-like disturbance. Next to that of the Trenton, the Vandalia carries the heaviest battery in the Pacific squadron. She carries a sixty-pounder breech-loading rifle on her forecastle, eight-inch pivot muzzle-loading rifle forward to the foremast, and six nine-inch Dahlgrens in broadside in ways. She has a three-inch rifle, a wicked little gun, on the poop deck, a twenty-pound breech-loading rifled howitzer, and two Gatling guns. She also has a Hotchkiss rifled cannon.

To man the ship and secure all these guns the vessel carries a complement of 240 officers, crew and marines. Seven of the officers of the Mohican, who have not yet entered upon a three-years' cruise, were transferred to the Vandalia. A number of long-time men were also sent to the Vandalia. The full particulars of the affair of December 18, and days succeeding, fully confirm the earlier report of January 6, that the German consul at Samoa, backed by three German men-of-war, has overriden all treaty obligations between the powers.

The San Francisco Examiner prints a long letter from its correspondent at Apia, which described the assault made by the Germans and their repulse, and describes in detail the firing on the American flag and American houses, and the assault made on the American residents.

Admiral Gherardi's Views.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The Herald says. Our adopted citizens of German nativity had something new to talk about yesterday, in the shape of the ugly stories that were published concerning the doings of the naval forces of the fatherland down at Samoa. I called on Admiral Gherardi, the commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, and asked what he thought about the Samoan troubles.

"I don't like to express my opinion about such matters, for it is hardly my place to do so," said the admiral.

"Suppose that the United States should go to war with Germany over this Samoan difficulty, where do you think the fighting would take place?" I inquired.

"Oh, it would be a naval affair, I presume," answered the admiral. "That is, if our government decided to assert its rights and claims in Samoa."

"But would we have any show against the German navy?"

"Well, we have been making a great many improvements in our navy, but it does not in any way compare with that of Germany, of course. But she would be at a disadvantage if she attempted to back up her claim to Samoa on account of the great distance her vessels would have to go. It would not take the United States very long to get men together and hurry them across the continent and embark them for Samoa. We have vessels enough for transports, and could land a big force on the island before Germany to get there. That would be the seat of war. Earth works and various defenses could be thrown up, so that our forces could hold the island even if Germany saw fit to send over some of her best vessels.

"It is not an easy matter by any means to transport 15,000 or 20,000 men so far as it would be necessary for Germany to attempt to capture the island, if we only made up our minds that it was our duty to occupy it."

"But how would we fare if Germany decided to attack us directly?"

"I don't anticipate anything of that sort. Every nation knows that we are only vulnerable on the water. In every other way we are strong, for we are a country of wonderful resources. It is only a question of time when we may decide to put on an aggressive front and get us a navy and put our coast defenses in shape."

What is Learned at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—It was said at the navy department today that it will take six weeks at least for the warships Trenton and Vandalia to make the run from this continent to Samoa. Thus the Nipsic will be the only vessel representing this government at those islands from this time until after the 4th of next March. The Trenton sailed from Panama about a week ago, but the Vandalia is a faster vessel, and will take a more direct route than the Trenton, and will probably reach Samoa about as soon as the latter ship

It was also learned at the navy department that the Nipsic is the only vessel in Samoan waters. The Adams is on the way to San Francisco, and the Vandalia is at the latter port. The Trenton with Admiral Kimberly on board, and the Dolphin, are en route for Samoa. The Monongahela has been ordered to Samoa as a store ship

England's Interest in Samoa.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—It is stated upon most excellent authority that the English government has decided to uphold the treaty by the provisions of which European powers are precluded from obtaining or attempting to obtain dominance of Samoa. England has been fully informed of the views of the American government on the matter and is in full accord with the opinions held in Washington. The two governments are agreed that the action of the agents of Germany in Samoa is opposed to the letter and spirit of the treaty and also violates diplomatic etiquette and endangers the good relations necessary to the presence of Americans and Europeans when dealing with semi-barbarous nations. Dispatches have been sent to Berlin couched in language conveying the foregoing sense of the situation

The latest news received by Lord Salisbury from Apia is of a menacing character and the admiralty have therefore ordered the strength of the Pacific fleet to be increased immediately by at least two powerful vessels.

The Fighting Has Ceased.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—The German gunboat Eber, which arrived at Auckland January 20, reports that the fighting at Samoa had ceased, but that while it was in progress the German consulate and two stores adjoining were burned and entirely destroyed.

INDIANA LEGISLATURE.

Proceedings of Both the Upper and Lower Branches.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—The house held but one session. Representative Brown offered a resolution that the committee on temperance be instructed to prepare a bill for a local option liquor law, but on motion of Mr. Schmuck, of Marion, the resolution was tabled.

Beasley, of Sullivan, offered a joint resolution providing for a constitutional amendment making the terms of all county officers four years, and prohibiting two successive terms for the same man. Henry, of Floyd, a bill appointing separate boards of trustees for the insane hospital, blind institute and deaf and dumb institute. Mr. Zoericher presented a resolution instructing the proper committee to prepare a bill for the better enforcement of law regarding the returns of property for taxes.

In the senate, bills were introduced creating a supreme court commission; authorizing persons holding claims against the state to bring suit therefor in the Marion county superior court; limiting the rate that may be charged by railroads for transportation, and to create a state commission for the licensing of stationary engineers. Senator Mullinix introduced a measure providing for the study of the effects of alcoholic drinks and narcotics. Adjourned

Will Not Be Hung.

The Death Sentence of Mrs. Garrett Will Not Be Carried Out.

THE GOVERNOR INTERFERES

Instead of the Scaffold She Will Serve a Life Sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary—A Brief History of the Crime of Which She is Charged—A Much Asked Question Answered.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 22.—Governor Foraker has commuted the death sentence of Mrs. Mary Garrett, convicted of murdering her step-children, to imprisonment for life. Her execution had been set down for January 25, but last week the state board of pardons recommended that her death sentence be commuted and the governor has so declared. Mrs. Garrett has protested her innocence from the very first day she was accused of the murder. When she came to Elyria, O., three years ago she met and soon after married Alonzo Garrett, a well-to-do widower with two imbecile daughters, Anna and Eva, aged respectively twenty-six and thirty-two years.

MRS. GARRETT.

It was the common understanding that Mrs. Garrett's marriage had a mercenary motive, and that her imbecile step-daughters were an obstacle to her full enjoyment of her husband's wealth. The neighbors were drawn to the Garrett house early on the morning of November 1, 1877, by seeing the farm house in flames. The first persons to arrive found Mrs. Garrett hastily removing articles of furniture from the burning building. She said that some one had murdered the two step-daughters and then fired the house

The neighbors rushed in and extinguished the flames, which had been started in many places. In the chamber occupied by the two imbeciles were found their bodies in bed, their heads beaten to a pulp and the bed clothes covered with blood. Their night clothes and the bedding had been soaked with coal oil, and dry leaves had been soaked with the same fluid and heaped upon the bodies. The strangest part of it was that Mrs. Garrett had not awakened her husband and his son, who were sleeping in another part of the house.

Suspicion pointed strongly toward Mrs. Garrett, and she was arrested. On July 27 last, while awaiting trial in jail at Medina, she gave birth to a boy baby, whom she named Warden Coffin Garrett, in honor of Warden Coffin, of the state prison. In the early part of September Mrs. Garrett had sufficiently recovered to appear for trial. The trial lasted but a few days, there being almost no evidence in defence. On September 17 the jury returned a verdict of guilty after five hours' deliberation, and she was sentenced to be hanged January 25. A motion for a new trial was overruled, and the circuit court refused to interfere. The governor's interference thus saves her life and solves the problem that has been so often asked: "Will Ohio hang a woman?"

Two Mines Shut Down.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 22.—Mining in the Indiana block coal fields is very dull. Mine No. 6 operated by the Brazil Block Coal company has just shut down indefinitely owing to a lack of orders, three hundred miners were employed at this mine. At Centre Point, the Churchill mine, which gave employment to two hundred men, has also shut down. The mines where work is still carried on are running on about one-third time

An Old Story.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Jan. 22.—The miners in the coal mines at Boonesborough, which employed three hundred men, are out on a strike, because of a reduction in the rate from four and a half to four cents. Mine owners claim that the strike will benefit them by limiting the output and raising the price, while the miners are obstinate, and say they are out to win

Interstate Commerce.

Mr. C. P. Huntington Expresses His Opinion on the Subject

HE IS OPPOSED TO THE LAW.

And Believes It is a Step Backward From Civilization—An Agreement on the Wool Schedule—A Conference of Greenbackers—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Mr. C. P. Huntington, being met at Workley's hotel by a reporter, he was asked his opinion of the interstate law. Replying, Mr. Huntington said:

C. P. HUNTINGTON

"I am opposed to the law because I believe that when you take control away from ownership you are going on a back track, away from civilization and towards barbarism. That statement, I suppose, would be counted rather radical. But unless there is the incentive of control when property is acquired, affairs will run to the leeward. Then I do not see any more reason why the government should fix the rates of the railroad than they should those of the hotels, for a man can walk, though he couldn't stay out all night so well."

Senate and House Proceedings.

In the senate a bill was passed authorizing the Omaha & Fort Dodge railway to build its road across the Fort Hayes military reservation in Kansas. A communication was presented from the governor of Michigan presenting for statuary hall a statue of Lewis Cass. The tariff bill was considered, and an agreement reached to take a vote at 4 p. m. tomorrow. A night session was held to continue to debate

In the house there was filibustering to force an agreement for amendments to the Oklahoma bill. A resolution was finally adopted to make the Oklahoma bill a special order for Thursday next, and to take a vote at 4 o'clock. A bill was passed authorizing the five Indian nations to lease certain lands, also, a bill increasing the maximum of international money orders from $50 to $100. At 4:40 p. m. the house adjourned

The Wool Schedule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. The finance committee of the senate has agreed to an amendment to the wool schedule in the tariff bill, making the rate on carpet wools worth not less than twelve cents, four cents, and the duty on carpet wools worth more than twelve cents, eight cents a pound; and the duty on combing wools twelve cents a pound. This is a general advance on present rates. To compensate for this the rate on carpets is increased from 20 to 35 per cent. ad valorem

Another Candidate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. Representative Darlington, of Pennsylvania, has addressed a letter to President-elect Harrison, requesting the appointment of Mr. August Donath as public printer. Mr. Darlington will lay before Mr. Harrison a paper signed by all the Republican members of the Pennsylvania legislature, urging Mr. Donath's appointment. Mr. Donath is editor and proprietor of the Chester Times

He Gets the Prize.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The prize of $250, offered by the Reform club, of New York, for the best essay, published in a daily or weekly paper on the relation of the tariff to the industries of any given locality, has been awarded to Fred. Perry Powers, Washington correspondent of the Chicago Herald for an article on the relations of the tariff to the industries of Chicago

In the Interest of Veterans.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Joseph W. Kay, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is in Washington in the interest of United States veterans. He visited President Cleveland yesterday and urged him to reappoint Sidney L. Willson, late of Fredonia, N. Y., as pension agent here. Mr. Kay says he believes that the president will make the appointment. Willson's term expires to day

A Conference of Greenbackers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Chairman George O. Jones, of the National Greenback party, has issued a call for a conference of National Greenbackers and those who believe in preserving the name and organization of the National party, to meet in Washington at 10 o'clock a. m., Tuesday March 5, 1889.

Accounts in a Bad Shape.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. A special to the World from Portland, Me., says Charles P. DEFRAUDING THE INDIANS.

How the Indians of the Fond du Lac Reservation Have Been Imposed Upon.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A Herald special from Duluth, Minn., says: The recent glaring frauds upon the Indians of the Fond du Lac reservation, near here, have been brought to the attention of United States Commissioner Carey by the arrest of five white men. Some twenty Indians and half-breeds appeared as witnesses, charging that a number of leading lumber men have had large crews of men at work in the standing pine timber, and that 40,000,000 feet of picked timber, representing $200,000, have been deliberately stolen away, for which nothing has been paid.

It is also charged that for the contract work the lumber men employ whites, instead of giving employment to Indians, as is expressly stipulated in the contract. Charges of incompetency and debauchery of squaws are preferred against the reservation foreman, and things generally are in a bad way. The loggers say they will not leave the reservation, and the expectation is that United States troops will be called upon to drive them out. All of the prisoners were held in default of $2,500 bail

Knocked Out in Seven Rounds.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. Harry Duncan, of Staten Island and Eddie Delaney, of Brooklyn, fought a fight to a finish in a barn at Gravesend last night for a purse of $150. FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Quotations for the Money, Stock, Produce and Cattle Market for January 21.

NEW YORK.—Money 2@2½ per cent. Exchange firm; governments steady.

Currency sixes, 110 bid, four coupons, 127½ bid; four-and-a-half, 109 bid.

The features of the dealings on the stock exchange this morning were Atchison, St. Louis & San Francisco and the coal shares. During the first hour the first two mentioned stocks were actively dealt and declined 2¼ and 1½ per cent, respectively. The selling of these stocks unsettled the whole market and the general list at 11 o'clock was 1@1½ per cent lower than it closed last night. In the latter to noon the traders were heavily long of and under their lead prices more than recovered the early decline, except in the case of Atchison and St. Louis and San Francisco both of which continued weak. At this writ [illegible] are up ½ to 2½ per cent, with the greatest improvement in Reading, Delaware & Lackawanna and Pullman palace car.

DAUGHTERS OF EVE.

The St. Mark's railroad in Florida is reported to have a lady conductor.

Mrs. George Quintard is worth some $5,000,000, left her by her father, the late Charles Morgan.

Miss Harriett Hosmer advises art students going abroad to study sculpture at Rome and painting at Paris.

Mme. Mutsu, wife of the Japanese minister, has already learned to speak English. She does not wear native costume.

A German specialist asserts that Patti has two extra valves in her windpipe. She may be considered, therefore, a kind of bivalve—a veritable oyster Patti.

Sarah Bernhardt is conducting things with a high hand in Egypt. Her bills at the custom house for articles purchased already amount to over $13,000.

Mrs. August Belmont has the finest collection of sapphires in this country, though Mrs. William Astor is credited with possessing the finest single one.

Mme. Boulanger is a singularly sour tempered and disagreeable woman. Her temper at dinner was so nagging that the husband got into the way of dining at a cafe.

A poet is allowed a heap of license; but when Mrs. Kershan, of Cairo, threw hot water on a neighbor who made fun of her rhymes, the judge said that license had gone beyond the limit.

Some days after the imperial railroad accident, the czarina wrote to her mother of herself and her husband, "We still have big black and blue bruises all over us, but they are of no significance."

The Philadelphia woman who died of tight lacing was an old maid, homely and angular, and never had a beau, and yet she said she laced to please the men. All men should chip in for a monument to her.

The richest child in America is little May Sharpless, now but 9 years of age. She is the daughter of a late member of the great dry goods house of Arnold, Constable & Co., and she is worth $9,000,000 in her own name and right.

Mrs. William Gammell lives in Providence, but is almost as well known in New York as in her own home. She is the richest woman in New England, her assets footing up some $14,000,000, made by her late husband in the East India trade.

Miss Ellen Terry has herself designed the wonderful dresses in which she appears as Lady Macbeth. One clinging seamless garment of dark blue wool, woven with gold thread, to be worn under a blue velvet and gold worked mantle, is peculiarly effective.

Mrs. Elliott F. Shepherd, Mrs. William Shane and Mrs. H. W. Twombly were all left large fortunes by their father, the late Commodore Vanderbilt, and these were increased by generous gifts from their brother, William H. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Newton, one of the four women who were given the Crimean medal, which Queen Victoria personally pinned on her, is still living in Toronto. She was a nurse in the Crimean war and was shot through the knee in a trench before the Redan.

Lady Randolph Churchill danced twice with her host, Col. North, at the latter's wonderful ball in London. Pages in Seventeenth century costume presented each guest with a dance card printed on tinted silk handkerchiefs edged with ecru lace.

Mrs. Bradley Martin is said to have an income of $1,000 a day, derived from the estate of her father, the late Isaac Sherman. She is one of the most princely entertainers in New York, and with her husband owns an estate in Scotland, where they go each year to spend the summer months.

There are 3,000 women in the government departments at Washington. Before the war there were none. Gen. Francis E. Spinner, formerly United States treasurer, first suggested the employment of women, and Secretary Chase authorized it to be done. There are a good many women getting salaries over $1,000.

A French woman who is endeavoring to found schools for girls in Algiers divides the proposed studies into two classes, "neutral" and "active." The neutral includes reading, writing, orthography, arithmetic, history and moral philosophy. That is just where the modern Frenchman is most likely to put moral philosophy.

Miss Candy, who is to marry the Duke of Newcastle—who, by the way, is no relation to the Duke of Nonsuch who comes to the United States so often—is the daughter of an officer who once served with the Khedive's troops in Egypt. Capt. Candy was familiarly known as "Sugar," and his magnificent uniforms made a sensation six years ago in Cairo, a city which is not easily astonished.

POINTS OF ETIQUETTE.

Every woman should keep a visiting book.

For calling or leaving cards the hours are from 3 to 5.

Invitations should be answered the same day if possible.

Cards or calls can be returned any time within a month.

The prefix "Mr." must never be omitted from a man's name.

On no account must cards be left in the morning—that is, before 2:30.

A daughter's name is written underneath her mother's, on the same card.

On a first visit you leave one of your own and two of your husband's cards.

Coronets, monograms, crests and initials are never printed on visiting cards.

Wedding cards must never be sent, they are out of fashion. So are memorial and christening cards.

A married lady only uses her Christian name, but if her husband has a father or brother living she should always use her husband's Christian name.

A lady's visiting card should be about three inches in length and two in depth, without glaze, and not too thick, small clear copper plate is the best for the name.

When people are not well enough to return thanks in person, they can do so by post—that is to say, they send cards with "to return thanks for kind inquiries" written underneath the name.

Morning calls are the only social occasions when ladies receive their friends and acquaintances when no refreshments are offered to them with the exception of tea, cake and bread and butter.

After every entertainment to which a lady or gentleman has been invited, visiting cards must be left, whether those who have received invitations were present or not, and whether they accepted or declined.

If a lady has a friend or acquaintance who is ill, she leaves a card as soon as she can with the words "to inquire" written underneath her name. These cards cannot be sent by post under any circumstances.

When a brother or sister reside together, the card bears their joint names. It is usually a lady's visiting card with her name printed beneath her brother's. The same when a girl has no mother living, only a father.—Detroit Free Press.

STRAY BITS.

There are in India about 300 separate species of snakes, but only thirty-three of these are poisonous.

No Laplander has ever written a song, and no Finlander has ever written a book. No wonder they are a happy people.

The London Times has the figures to show that Spain has degenerated faster than any nation on earth—even faster than Patagonia.

The statistics of New England prove that seven out of every ten women left widows under the age of 35 marry again within two years.

The electric light is making great progress in Berlin, the number of lamps now in use there being about 25,000, against 850 at the end of 1886.

The word "folk-lore," invented by the late W. J. Thomas for use in English, has been adopted by the French and appears in the titles of new publications.

Experimenters at Manhattan, Kan., have discovered that the use of salt on wheat fields will greatly increase the yield. It is also announced that salt will kill potato bugs.

The Pawnee Indians have become so civilized that most of the bucks wear paper collars, the squaws wear red stockings, and all are catching on to popular songs and slang words.

According to experiments recently made the tensile strength of a wet rope is only one-third that of the same rope when dry, and a rope saturated with grease or soap is weaker still.

In its editorial department The Detroit Free Press has eleven persons whose service averages over seventeen years. The managing editor was engaged in 1865, the editor-in-chief in 1861.

There has been made in Geneva a musical box that plays entire operas, the solos rendered by pipes representing the human voice. These newest of harmonious inventions are to be exhibited at the Paris exposition.

Hotel keepers at Monte Carlo endeavor to have the habitual gamblers pay their bills considerably in advance, lest, in a bit of disappointment over great losses, they commit suicide and leave the bonfiace their creditor.

Twenty years ago there were ninety-two lightning rod factories in the United States. Today there are but three, and those doing a trifling business. The lightning rod was the biggest humbug of the Nineteenth century.

A Frenchman has invented a new system for propelling canal boats. It consists of an endless cable running along the two banks. The boats are moved at double the ordinary speed, and can readily be attached and detached from the cables.

An omnibus run by electricity, the only one in the world, has made successful trips in London. It runs on any kind of a street without the use of rails, while the so called electric omnibus of Paris is in reality a tram car running on a track.

There is nothing startling in the fact that many Russian people have been frozen to death this winter. It is the business of Russia to be very cold for three months in the year, and something would be out of order if a few hundred people didn't freeze to death.

One Newman, of Rushville, Ind., has a crow which has forsaken its kind, and associates altogether with the chickens in the barnyard. At night it roosts with the poultry, and during the daytime feeds with them, and altogether conducts itself as a well disciplined chicken.

A contrivance has lately been introduced on the railroads in Russia to indicate the next station at which the train will stop. It is a dial, the index of which points to the station. One is set up in every car, and the indices of all are moved at once by electricity, working from the locomotive.

Sometimes it happens that quite an entertainment is arranged especially for a juryman's benefit. Such an instance was seen in a Maine village the other day. It was in a horse case, and the entire jury had to go out and see for themselves what kind of a record the animal could make on the track.

A Pittsburg man is said to have really married a girl under the impression that he was marrying her sister. His courtship of the other girl was brief, and the sisters so closely resembled each other that he proposed and was accepted before he discovered his mistake. He has never confessed that he made this odd error, but the girl who lost a good husband because of it insists to this day that she ought to be in her sister's stead.

Professor Kirchhoff, of Halle, estimates that the language most spoken on the globe, for the last thousand years at least, is Chinese, for it is without doubt the only one which is talked by over 400,000,000 of the human race; the next language most in use (but at a very great distance behind Chinese) being Hindustani, spoken by over 100,000,000. Then follow English, spoken by about 100,000,000; Russian, over 70,000,000; German, over 57,000,000, and Spanish, over 47,000,000.

BUSINESS.

Pay as you go.

Never fool in business matters.

Do not kick every one in your path.

Learn to think and act for yourself.

Keep ahead of rather than behind the times.

Use your own brains rather than those of others.

Have order, system, regularity and also promptness.

A man of honor respects his word as he does his bond.

Do not meddle with business you know nothing about.

Help others when you can, but never give what you cannot afford because it is fashionable.

Learn to say No. No necessity for snapping it out dog fashion, but say it firmly and respectfully.

If you have a place of business, be found there when wanted. No man can get rich by sitting around stoves and saloons.—Indianapolis News.

DON'TS FOR GOOD GIRLS.

Don't allow yourself to be under obligations to any man.

Don't discuss your family affairs in general conversation.

Don't offer to shake hands when a man is introduced to you.

Don't give your photographs to men, and don't ask them for theirs.

Don't make yourself conspicuous at any time by loud laughing or talking.

Don't fail to try to always be frank and just and generous, and above all womanly.

Don't wear an evening dress to a quiet afternoon reception; don't go without a hat or bonnet.

Don't write, except when it can't be avoided, to men. Make all your notes acknowledging courtesies, etc., short and to the point.

Don't feel it necessary to bow to a man you have met at a ball or a party afterwards, unless you want to continue the acquaintance.

LIGHT AND AIRY.

The Tired Foot.

The potter stood at his daily work,
One patient foot on the ground,
The other, with never slacking speed,
Turning the swift wheel round.
Silent we stood beside him there,
Watching the restless knee,
Till my friend said low in pitying voice,
How tired his foot must be.

The potter never paused in his work,
Shaping the wondrous thing;
'Twas only a common flower pot,
But perfect in fashioning.
Slowly he raised his patient eyes,
With homely truth inspired
"No, ma'am, it isn't the foot that kicks—
The one that stands gets tired."

—The Continent.

Saving the Audience Trouble.

Young Playwright—Did you witness my tragedy last night, Charley?

Charley—Oh, yes.

Young Playwright—What did you think of killing off all the characters in the last act?

Charley—It was a good idea, chappie, because if you hadn't killed them off the audience would.—The Epoch.

The Mitten.

In the sleigh there was only just room for us two,
There was nobody else to forbid it—
The music of sleigh bells beat time to my heart—
And some way or other I did it.

There was love in the air that we breathed the white snow
Was tinged with the sun's golden glory
Well—I spoke—and she gave me the mitten point blank!
That's the long and the short of the story.

The wild rush of happiness you do not know
You can't know unless you have tried it.
What's that? Why, she gave me the mitten—
that's true—
But her dear little hand was inside it.

—Vassar Miscellany

She Didn't Fancy Club Men.

Brother (to sister)—I say, sis, I want to introduce to you a particular friend of mine, he is a swell and a great club man.

Sister (whispers back)—Oh, don't, Jack you know how I detest those silly club men. What club does he belong to?

Brother—The New York Baseball club.

Sister—Oh, introduce him at once. I shall be delighted to meet him.—The Epoch.

An Epicure.

Unto a little nigger,
A swimming in the Nile,
Appeared, quite unexpectedly,
A hungry crocodile.
Who, with that oily politeness
That makes the warm blood freeze,
Remarked "I'll take some dark meat
Without dressing, if you please."

A Practical Joke.

Trump—You gave me a counterfeit $5 bill a few moments ago.

Practical Joker—Ha! ha! ha! ho! ho! ho! Found it out, eh?

"Yes, sir, and on my information an officer is now looking for you. Give me $5 in good money and I'll throw him off the track. Thanks. Ta, ta!"—New York Weekly.

The Plumber Given Away.

The plumber came down like a wolf on the fold,
And his pockets were laden with solder and gold
Nine hours and a half he made love to the cook,
And sixty five dollars was charged on his book.

Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Old Story.

Little Boy—Mamma, what's my Christmas book about?

Mamma—It is called "The Sleeping Beauty," and is about a girl who slept and slept and slept, and there couldn't anybody wake her—

"Was she a blue girl?"—Philadelphia Record.

How She Caught Him.

Mr. Nicefellow—Do you play or sing, Miss De Sweet?

Miss De Sweet—No, Mr. Nicefellow. I have been kept so busy helping mother that I have never had time for music.

"Miss De Sweet! Mabel! I love you. Be mine!"—New York Weekly.

A Maiden's Love.

Of the size of her hand you may judge by her glove,
For that there is mounted in gilt,
But you never can judge of the depth of the love
Of a maid by the sight of her feet.

Boston Courier.

He'll Feel That Way More Later.

Young Man—Do you make any reduction for goods purchased on installments?

Jeweler (smiling)—Certainly.

Young Man—Then give me a dozen of your cheapest engagement rings. I am going to live in Salt Lake City, and feel that it is necessary to economize.—Jeweler's Weekly.

A Well Dressed Road Bed.

He—Suppose we go by the W., X. and Y. line. It is said to have a beautiful road bed.

She—Yes, I know it must be; perfectly charming, for I saw by the paper the other day, that it had just been fitted out with a million new ties.—Burlington Free Press.

The Obliging Farmer.

A tramp asked a farmer for something to eat
One day as the chance of the season to reap.
The kind hearted farmer went out to the wood
And gave him an ax, and he kindly said
"Now just help yourself to a chop."

Yonkers Gazette.

A Practical Eye.

Boston Girl (at dime museum)—What is that lady's specialty?

Manager—She is the living skeleton. She is the thinnest woman in the known world.

Boston Girl—Why, is it possible! She doesn't seem to be very thin.—New York Sun.

LONG LIFE

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for them [illegible] because they are really careless, but because we live as it were from hand to mouth, we have not time to give the matter sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the [illegible] who present them, and often hesitate in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health keeper, life preserver, and disease preventer that has yet been discovered, is summed down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names and guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sold out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine—of health.

THE NEW YORK

MAIL AND EXPRESS

The Advocate of the Best Interests of the Home—The Enemy of the Saloon. The Friend of American Labor. The Favorite Newspaper of People of Refined Tastes Everywhere.

The New York MAIL AND EXPRESS, the favorite American newspaper of many people of intelligent and cultivated tastes, has recently made some noteworthy improvements, materially increasing its general excellence. It is in the broadest sense

A National Newspaper,

most carefully edited, and adapted to the wants and tastes of intelligent readers throughout the entire country—North, South, East and West. It is a thoroughly clean paper, free from the corrupting, sensational and demoralizing trash, miscalled news, which defiles the pages of too many city papers.

OUR POLITICS.

We believe the Republican party to be the true instrument of the POLITICAL PROGRESS of the American people; and holding that the honest enforcement of its principles is the best guarantee of the national welfare, we shall support them with all our might; but we shall always treat opposing parties with consideration and fair play.

AGAINST THE SALOON.

The MAIL AND EXPRESS is the recognized National organ of the great Anti-Saloon Republican movement. It believes that the liquor traffic as it exists to-day in the United States is the enemy of society, a fruitful source of corruption in politics, the ally of anarchy, a school of crime, and, with its avowed purpose of seeking to corruptly control elections and legislation, is a menace to the public welfare and deserves the condemnation of all good men.

Embroideries!

Embroideries!

Our new stock of Hamburg and Swiss Embroideries has arrived, and will be included in our great reduction sale. Muslin will also be reduced, so that ladies should take advantage of the season and low prices to make up their white goods. Everything in our entire stock, regardless of actual cost, will suffer a decided reduction from the marked prices.

☛During our invoice we selected all short lengths of Dress Goods, Muslins, Ginghams, Flannels, etc., which will be sold very cheap.

☛If you want a nice Plush Coat, Modjeska, or anything in the Wrap line we can still show a good line, and will sell so low that you could save a large percentage on your investment by buying now. Now is the time to buy if you wish to save money.

ROOMERS WANTED.—Two gentlemen roomers wanted at No. 60 south Main street.

FOR RENT.—Two houses on south Main street. Possession of one given immediately, and of the other April 1st. Inquire of J. B. Weaver, at "Board of Trade." 61-1w

WANTED.—To rent April 1st, a small house or rooms suitable for a family of three adults; rent must be reasonable. Address Lock Box 854, city. 60tf

—E. D. Burt, of Iberia, was in town today.

—Urbana is to build city buildings to cost $25,000.

—Two brooms for a quarter at the Marion Bazaar.

—Col. George B. Christian is in Cincinnati on a business trip.

—Oysters served in every style, at all times, at Fies & Ballantine's.

—Crystal glass tea sets, only 25c, and 8-qt. tin dish-pans, only 10c, at the Marion Bazaar.

—The pioneers of Harding county will erect a log cabin on the fair grounds at Kenton.

—No one should fail to attend the grand piano recital tonight at Music Hall, by Miss Nealy Stevens.

—Mt. Gilead information says a gentleman from that city will go into the restaurant business in Marion.

—Five slate-pencils for a cent and three handkerchiefs for a nickel, at the Marion Bazaar, opposite postoffice.

—All sizes and kinds of both hard and soft coals can be had at L. B. Gurley's, No. 16 north East street. Call on him. 139tf

—The County Commissioners of Hardin and Union Counties were in joint session with the Marion Co. board, transacting Dudley Run ditch business today.

—Fies & Ballantine are making their new restaurant the leading one in Marion. Choice lunch and excellent meals, and oysters in every style. 58tf

—The Ladies Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will meet at Mrs. Frank Salter's Thursday afternoon at half past two o'clock. A full attendance is desired.
MRS. JOSEPH JOHNSTON, Sec.

☛Four-room house on Oak street, small stable and cistern, possession April 1st $550.
CHASE & HUNTER.

—Mrs. S. Stengel is down sick with a bad cold.

—The Salvation Army is paralyzing things at Upper Sandusky.

—Prof. Miles is to sing at the piano recital tonight, at Music Hall.

—John Schroeder has gone to Delaware to remain a few days with his parents.

—Elegant chamber sets and decorated tea sets, very cheap, at the Marion Bazaar, opposite postoffice.

—H. W. Lindsey, piano reconstructor, is in the city. Leave orders at Ackerman's music store or Kerr House.

—When you want a good 25 cent meal or a nice lunch try Fies & Ballantine's new restaurant on south Main street.

—The Odd Fellows are busy at every meeting with degree work, a fact that shows Fred Issleib to be booming things since he became the head of the team.

—Miss Laura Bowen celebrated her birthday anniversary last Saturday evening by entertaining the Huber office force and their ladies. It was a congenial company and Miss Bowen entertained them delightfully.

—Jno. Frash is making a genuine reduction in all classes of dry goods for a few days. Persons knowing his manner of doing business will be pleased to learn that this reduction of price includes every thing in stock.

—Miss Nealy Stevens is to be assisted in her recital at Music Hall tonight by Prof. Gaffym Miles, who is one of the most enthusiastic concert singers in this part of the country, with Miss Griselda Davis as accompanist.

—A typographical error in the Bellefontaine Republican made the Rushylvania correspondent say that small pox was very prevalent at that place. The correspondent meant chicken pox, and the error has caused quite a scare.

—The children of Mrs. Dora Weist gave her a surprise call at the home of John Habermann, on north East street, today, and together with the many friends who joined them, they celebrated her 79th birthday. It was an enjoyable event.

—Cooper Post G. A. R., has passed resolutions urging the appointment of Gen'l W. H. Gibson to the office of Pension Commissioner. Gen'l Gibson stands in with the comrads everywhere and they will rejoice to see him thus favored by the administration.

—The occurrence of a railway wreck frequently causes people to remark that the railway employes and officials are careless in their work. There is no business that requires more accuracy, close attention to business, promptness and fidelity. Something of the care with which train business is conducted may be learned from the following figures: During November there were over 5,400 different train orders sent out by the Dispatcher of the Western Division of the N. Y. P. and O. road at Galion. Of these an expert found but 17 errors, most of which were trifling, generally the fault of the conductor or engineer in forgetting to sign the orders properly or repeat them.

—J. A. Vail will move into his new room the first Monday in February, and the STAR office will be moved on that same day to its new quarters in the Harding building.

—A brewery is talked of in Marion, but is no certainty. So far as observations have been made Cincinnati, Springfield and Toledo beer has been satisfactory to the Marion guzzlers, but then there is nothing like home industry.

—Frank Taylor is still looking for a suitable room in which to establish the Marion Advertising and Sign Co. He will execute signs and advertisement in all the most conspicuous places in the country, including barns, rocks, etc.

—It is talked that when the new Bennett building graces the southwest corner of Main and Center streets, Messrs. Kling and Harvey and Rapp will modernize the Campbell block, with a new front and another story. It would be a marked improvement, and then the Thew corner should have attention.

—Don't forget that the Marion Bazaar takes the lead in quantity, quality and style of 5, 10 and 25c goods. Just opened a new and complete line of notions, tinware, glassware, queensware, jewelry and toys. Great reduction on wooden hosiery. We are here to stay, and we guarantee perfect satisfaction on all goods. [T-S-WK

—Michael Cusic, the railroad watchman at the East street crossing, died Sunday of a complication of diseases, prominent among which was the asthma. He was aged about sixty years and leaves a family. His funeral occurred this morning under the auspices of the St. Patrick's T. A. B. Society, of which decease dwas a member.

—Miss Cora Geiger, a very estimable young lady, died at her mother's home on the hill, Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock, falling a victim to that dread destroyer, consumption. Miss Geiger had been confined to the house since last September, but has scarcely been bedfast in all that time. She was aged 27 years, and a lady very highly esteemed by all who knew her.

—Nobody "hit" the Louisiana lottery for any notable chunk this month, so the opera house from that source is delayed another month. It strikes us that the boys who talk of building this much needed opera house from that source would get the building sooner by saving the cash that goes to New Orleans until enough accumulates to build the structure. That would be just as quick a way, and decidedly surer.

—The plans and specifications for the new Bennett building are now on file at the office of C. C. Fisher, and the contract will be let about February 1st. The plans are drawn for a four story and basement building, to be constructed of Marion blue limestone, and it will be by all odds much the finest business block in the city. The ground floor is to be one business room with east and north front entrances, and very large and modern show windows. The second and third floors are planned for offices, and the fourth floor arranged in two modern rooms. The new "Bennett Building," as it is to be called, will be a real beauty, a credit to Marion and a monument to its owners.

Obituary

DURFEY.—Mrs. Mary Jane Durfey was born in Ostrander, Delaware county, O., October 30th, 1861, and died January 17th, 1889, aged 27 years, 2 months and 16 days.

She was united in marriage with Mr. J. R. Durfey March 20th, 1885. To this union was born two sons, both of whom died in infancy. She was converted and united with the Baptist Church at Ostrander, in which church she held an honored membership until they removed to Marion, O., where she with her husband united with the Church of the United Brethren. In Christ in the communion of this church she lived an esteemed member until death. Her funeral was largely attended. The services were held in the U. B. Church on Sunday, Jan. 20th, at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. Dr. Hensley, assisted by Rev. A. D. Matthews. Her mortal remains were deposited in the Marion cemetery. Her life was that of a devoted christian and her death a signal triumph. Not a single doubt seemed to disturb her hope of immortality. She was an affectionate wife and leaves a devoted husband to mourn an irreparable loss to him.

WARNER & EDWARDS

Tough on Col. Hazen.

[Columbus Dispatch]

The Canal Commission have proof positive now that the land claimed in Union county belongs to the State canal lands. This conclusion was arrived at this morning when a letter was received communicating the result of a search through the records. This tract which is a portion of a four thousand-acre farm belonging to W. P. Hazen, who now resides in Florida, comprises 197 1-10 acres and is appraised at $6912. It seems as if the State is jus that amount ahead owing to the discovery.

The Burden of the Sticker.

The sticker is, I believe, the appellation by which the girl without a chaperon is known in the mystic circle of the boy about town. The sticker, in her highest forms, is something which freezes the young blood of youth, and makes the neatly parted hair of middle age stand on end. She is, of course, not charming. She is apt to be old and gushing, and, like the wicked, when she flies, no man pursueth. It is just the opposite way. If she has firm hold of a partner, he may as well give up all hope and cease forever to yearn for liberty. When he has danced with her six consecutive times and is arriving at the stage when one foams at the mouth and dies, he says, with icy quietude:

"Miss Jones, can I take you to your chaperon?"

"I haven't got any," says the sprightly creature.

They promenade round the room in heavy silence. The men whom the victim knows avoid his wretched, beseeching eyes, and when they see his melancholy approach they disperse hurriedly. He wonders if he couldn't suddenly throw her down and rush madly out, or wouldn't it be feasible to fall in a dead faint, overcome by the heat when the thermometer is far below freezing. Unable to bear it any longer, he stops short and says, desperately:

"Then where can I leave you?"

She sees that she has reached the end of his patience and surrenders.

"Anywhere will do," she says, resignedly, knowing that the happiness of the evening is past.—San Francisco Argonaut.

About Color Blindness.

Mr. Hughes relates that while acting as assistant engineer on the Granton railway he frequently returned on one of the engines from Granton to Edinburgh. On these occasions he observed that, although his undivided attention was directed toward the signal lamps, the lights of which were visible to him a long way off, he could not till he was close upon them distinguish whether they were red or green. These are the two colors most commonly confused, but happily they are visible to the majority of color blind persons when strongly illuminated. Railway guards, therefore, are less liable to mistakes by night than by day. Inability to discern any colors at all is very rare, and, in fact, has never been satisfactorily proved. A color blind person may have as good a sight in other ways as anybody else. The defect is not occasioned by any disease in the eye, but seems to have its sole origin in the brain. A red green blind person sees only two colors on the spectrum; all the colors on the side of the red (warm colors) are confused together and all on the side of the violet (cold colors), but the warm and the cold are never confused. Yellow is the one color which is always distinguishable. It is a curious fact that color blindness is often associated with a corresponding inability to distinguish musical sounds. —Medical Register.

Disconcerting a Witness.

Sir James Scarlett, when practicing at the bar, one day had to examine a witness whose evidence promised to be damaging unless he could be previously confused. The only vulnerable point of the man was said to be his self esteem. The witness, a portly, overdressed person, went into the box and Scarlett took him in hand. "Mr. John Tompkins, I believe?" "Yes." "You are a stock broker?" "I ham." Scarlett regarded him attentively for a few moments, and then said, "And a very fine, well dressed ham you are, sir." The shout of laughter which followed completely disconcerted Mr. Tompkins, and the lawyer's point was gained.—San Francisco Argonaut.

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY DONE AT THIS OFFICE.

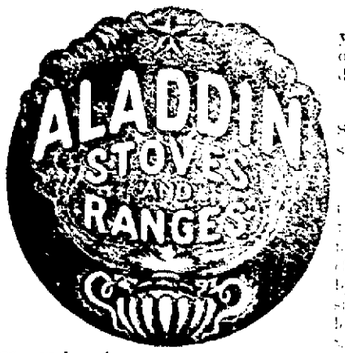
OUR SPECIALTY "BLO!"



"Young man, don't be afraid to blow your own horn. Just blow it in front of the people and not in the REAR and do it." Just Blows.

A few years ago there was added to the Stove Possessor of Marion the CLEAR, STEADY tone of A NEW HORN.
It was soon seen in the "rear" at first UNNOTICED, then at UNHEARD; through TIME, EVIDENCE of the INTEGRITY of its tones, its PURITY of TONE and BEAUTY of EXECUTION were at length recognized by the musical intelligence, the process of "single horn fooled," and today "it is the one." PUBLIC CONFIDENCE, ADVERTISING, EXTRAVAGANCE, PRAISE and LOYALTY, ALL have been won legitimately by the OUTPUT and OUTWORK of the class of goods we handle. Dear reader, will YOU join the procession and help us protect your PURSE?
